

BANTAM CHAMPION PREPARING TO DEFEND HIS TITLE

RED DOLAN WILL TACKLE HERRING IN LOCAL ARENA

New Orleans Lightweight Secured to Travel 8 Rounds With Topnotch Miller for Monday Night, Nov. 3.

A battle of redheads will be the attraction at the Southern Athletic club on Monday night, Nov. 3, when Red Dolan, New Orleans, will meet Herring, of Memphis, in a light-weight bout. Dolan is expected to arrive in Memphis the latter part of next week to commence his training for Herring, who is already here in training.

Both Herring and Dolan are around the top among the lightweights, and their bout should be one of the best that has ever been staged in Memphis. Herring has been under the managerial wing of Ed Eberfeld, Little Rock basketball manager for the past several months, but is now in other hands, and says he is confident that he is headed for the place now occupied by Benny Leonard. Herring has met a number of good boys and has made a fine showing, and is confident that he will be returned a winner when he meets Dolan.

Red Dolan has been boxing for some time and has victories to his credit over some of the best that the light-weight contingent has to offer. He hits with both hands, is clever and is aggressive. He is now in training in New Orleans, working with other fighters who are getting in shape for approaching bouts.

Herring Hard at Work

Red Herring has been in Memphis for the past several days, and has already started training, working at the Southern Athletic club arena with a number of good Memphis boys. Red says he is anxious to make his home in Memphis and is going out to win as many fights as possible, and that he believes he has the goods to make himself a home with local fight fans, who, he knows, are anybody who packs the little goods.

The approaching mill promises to be one of the fastest ever staged in Memphis. Good preliminaries are also being arranged for the show.

$150,000 Offered For Heavyweight Championship Bout

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 24.—An offer of $150,000 for a 20-round championship boxing match between Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, and Joe Beckett, English champion, to be held here this winter, was made here tonight for Dempsey's bout to Jack Beckett, Dempsey's manager, by D. J. Tortorich, representing a local syndicate. The offer is still pending.

Pat Moran Receives $1,000 In Gold On Silver Platter

FITCHBURG, Mass., Oct. 24.—Citizens of Fitchburg honored "Pat" Moran, manager of the world's champion Cincinnati Reds last night at a banquet that was the culmination of a series of receptions that have been tendered him since he led the Reds to victory over the White Sox. Mayor Frank H. Fox, in behalf of the citizens, presented $1,000 in gold to him, on a silver platter.

HIGH PICKED TO BEAT VOCATIONAL IN ANNUAL GAME

Coach Curlin, of Vocational, Has Made Changes During the Week, However, and Predicts Surprise.

Central High rules a favorite over Vocational High in the annual game between the two eleven scheduled for Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Edison field.

After a hard week's grind following the deadlock of last week with Mayfield High, Coach Curlin, of C. H. S., states that his machine is in excellent condition and is confident of romping home with the bacon.

Vocational has made a number of needed improvements during the week and the tip from Coach Curlin is to the effect that High is due the grand surprise of the year.

Changes in the line and backfield have added considerable strength to the Vocational eleven and the new combination is working with a precision that was never known before.

SATURDAY'S PROGRAM ON ALL GRIDIRONS

At Clemson, S. C.—University of Tennessee vs. Clemson.
At Nashville, Tenn.—Vanderbilt vs. Auburn.
At Roanoke, Va.—V. M. I. vs. Davidson.
At Austin, Tex.—Baylor vs. University of Texas.
At A. and M. College, Miss.—Maryville College vs. Mississippi vs. Ripley.
At New Orleans—Tulane vs. Ole Miss.
At Pittsburgh, Pa.—Georgia Tech vs. Pittsburgh.
At Cambridge, Mass.—Virginia vs. Harvard.
At Chicago, Ill.—Northwestern vs. Chicago.
At Urbana, Ill.—Wisconsin vs. Illinois.
At Minneapolis, Minn.—Iowa vs. Minnesota.
At Ann Arbor, Mich.—Ohio State vs. Michigan.
At East Lansing, Mich.—Michigan Aggies vs. DePaul.
At Notre Dame, Ind.—Notre Dame vs. Western State Normal.
At Columbia, Mo.—Missouri vs. Drake.
At Omaha, Neb.—Oklahoma vs. Nebraska.
At Ames, Ia.—Kansas vs. Ames.
At Franklin, Ind.—Franklin vs. St. Xavier.
At Omaha, Neb.—Creighton vs. Marquette.
At Indianapolis—Rose Poly vs. Butler.
At Lawrence, Kan.—Baskett Institute vs. Salina Wesleyan.
At Manhattan, Kan.—Kansas Aggies vs. Hays Normal.
At Crawfordville, Ind.—Wabash vs. Earlham.
At Shreveport, La.—Arkansas vs. Louisiana.
At Wooner, O.—Wooner vs. Cast.
At Cincinnati, O.—Cincinnati vs. Denison.
At Cleveland, O.—Western Reserve vs. Baldwin-Wallace.
At Oxford, O.—Miami vs. Oberlin.
At Salina, Wis.—Belmont vs. Ripley.
At Stillwater, Okla.—Southern Methodist University vs. Oklahoma A and M.
At Wichita, Kan.—Fairmount vs. State Normal.
At Delaware, O.—Ohio Northwestern vs. Ohio Wesleyan.
At Valparaiso, Ind.—Great Lakes vs. Valparaiso.
At St. Louis, Mo.—Washington vs. Grinnell.
At Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Carleton vs. Coe.
At Vermillion, S. D.—South Dakota vs. Morrisville.
At Cedar Falls, Ia.—Upper Iowa vs. State Teachers College.
At Fairfield, Ia.—Cornell vs. Parsons.
At Des Moines, Ia.—Des Moines vs. Simpson.
At Albion, Mich.—Albion vs. Alma.
At Kalamazoo, Mich.—Kentucky vs. University of South.
At Springfield, O.—Wilmington vs. Wittenburg.
At Gambier, O.—Kenyon vs. Ohio University.
At Marietta, O.—Muskingum vs. Marietta.
At Appleton, Wis.—Lawrence vs. Stevens Point.
At Lexington, Ky.—Centre vs. Transylvania.

It seems that the man who has made Frank Chance manager of the Chicago Cubs, succeeding Fred Mitchell, is the same New York baseball writer who recently sold out William Wrigley's interests in the club to Chance and Barney Driess. In his review of events to come, he now has Chance working for Wrigley, instead of buying him out.

Some men pray for their friends and others pray upon them.

The Man in a Hurry

For a suit, will find here a line of high-grade, hand-tailored ready-to-wear suits that rival tailor-made.

Our new line of Fall Hats is ready. Come in and look them over.

Schonberger

"MASTER TAILOR."

62 N. Main St.

Haberdashery of Distinction

PUTZEL & CO.

Peabody Hotel Building.

MEN'S SHOES

IZZY ROSEN

MAIN AT UNION

BOYS' SHOES

From $4 to $9

Always $1 to $2 Less

Famous Shoe Store

110 Jefferson Avenue

"EXPERTS"

COOK & LIGHT

Cleaners and Pressers

Pete Herman Is Making Ready to Meet Either Pat Moore or Joe Lynch

Wearer of Championship Crown Says He Will Successfully Defend His Title on Thanksgiving Day.

BY BOB PIQUE.

PETE HERMAN, bantam-weight champion of the world, is making ready to meet either Pat Moore, of Memphis, or Joe Lynch, of New York city, on Thanksgiving day in New Orleans, over the 20-round route, which will determine whether Pete is a real champion and king of his class. Herman has been guaranteed a purse of $10,000, win, lose, or draw, and has already started conditioning himself for the battle, which he realizes will be one of the hardest of his long career. Herman will have to be in top-notch condition to win or even hold either Moore or Lynch to a draw.

The bantam champion says he is going to demonstrate to the skeptics and critics who have long said that he is a cheap champion that he has the goods of a real legitimate titleholder and regardless of who he meets for his title, Pete says he will prove that he is still the king of all the baby battlers.

Herman has been fighting no-decision fights practically ever since he won the championship from Kid Williams in New Orleans on Jan. 5, 1917.

Herman met Frankie Burns in New Orleans on Nov. 6, 1917, in a contest for the title, but successfully defended the crown against Burns in 20 rounds.

Lewis Says No Setup.

Nate Lewis, manager of Pat Moore, says that if the Memphisian is successful in his efforts to land the championship match with Herman for Thanksgiving day the local boys will have nothing like a setup in going against the champion. Lewis is a sound judge of boxers and has followed the game for many years is authority on things.

Herman is a top-notch boxer and he'll be hard to beat in a championship match, takes it from me," says Lewis. "His hands go in and out fighting a lot of second and third raters and never extending himself because he never gets no-decision fights. All Pete did was to keep from getting knocked out, which is the only way he could lose his title and with Moore asking more money than that, he is in a better position to win a no-decision fight. He has been outboxed by several men who couldn't hit him with a handful of shot if Pete's title had depended upon it. Herman knew that there was a sale of soft money lying around loose, so he went out after it. He was defeated several times, but he was careful to see that no decision would be given before taking the matches.

Herman was beaten by a mile by Pat Moore in an eight-round contest. Moore is the one boy that Herman fears and the champion could not be persuaded to go up against Moore in a short bout in which a decision would be given, for he realizes that he would not have a chance. But over the long route Herman is willing to meet Moore, believing that he can hold his own with Pat Moore, and at least retain his title by getting a draw with Moore.

Herman has been under wraps all along in his no-decision fights, for he has shown many times that he has the goods of a real fighter and when he enters the ring in a championship contest you can figure that he will fight. You remember what he did to Frankie Burns in his championship contest. Herman trimmed Frankie and anyone who knows anything at all about the boxing game realizes that Burns was a good boy.

Herman has said that Pete for the crown, and that if we can get the match Pat will be the next champion. But it is a hard battle, no doubt, and Pat is entitled to a chance.

Herman has issued a statement in which he is willing to meet either Moore or Lynch and that he has no preference in the matter. His terms have been met and whoever the promoters decide on, Pete says he'll be ready to climb through the ropes and defend his title.

Herman states that the only stipulation he makes is that he be given the $10,000 he has demanded and that the boys he meets will make the bantam weight. Herman will probably be somewhere near 120 pounds when he does the gloves.

Moore or Lynch will weigh over 120 pounds and Moore would enter the ring under that figure, for his natural weight is around 117 and 115.

In case Moore is successful in landing the title, Memphisians by the score are going to the Crescent City to see him win the title. Already Billy Haack is figuring on a special train which will be crowded to the bell-cord in cash.

Pete succeeds in making the match.

Match Still Hangs Fire.

The Thanksgiving day match is still hanging fire, with Promoter Tortorich demanding that Pat Moore sign a contract calling for a 20-20 split after $12,000 has been deducted from the gate, and with Herman now figuring on another plan, which may bring Lynch and Moore together on Thanksgiving day in an elimination match, the winner to draw the Herman bout, which would probably be staged around Christmas time.

Herman has issued a statement in which he is willing to meet either Moore or Lynch and that he has no preference in the matter. His terms have been met and whoever the promoters decide on, Pete says he'll be ready to climb through the ropes and defend his title.

Herman states that the only stipulation he makes is that he be given the $10,000 he has demanded and that the boys he meets will make the bantam weight. Herman will probably be somewhere near 120 pounds when he does the gloves.

Moore or Lynch will weigh over 120 pounds and Moore would enter the ring under that figure, for his natural weight is around 117 and 115.

In case Moore is successful in landing the title, Memphisians by the score are going to the Crescent City to see him win the title. Already Billy Haack is figuring on a special train which will be crowded to the bell-cord in cash.

Pete succeeds in making the match.

Match Still Hangs Fire.

The Thanksgiving day match is still hanging fire, with Promoter Tortorich demanding that Pat Moore sign a contract calling for a 20-20 split after $12,000 has been deducted from the gate, and with Herman now figuring on another plan, which may bring Lynch and Moore together on Thanksgiving day in an elimination match, the winner to draw the Herman bout, which would probably be staged around Christmas time.

Herman has issued a statement in which he is willing to meet either Moore or Lynch and that he has no preference in the matter. His terms have been met and whoever the promoters decide on, Pete says he'll be ready to climb through the ropes and defend his title.

Herman states that the only stipulation he makes is that he be given the $10,000 he has demanded and that the boys he meets will make the bantam weight. Herman will probably be somewhere near 120 pounds when he does the gloves.

Moore or Lynch will weigh over 120 pounds and Moore would enter the ring under that figure, for his natural weight is around 117 and 115.

In case Moore is successful in landing the title, Memphisians by the score are going to the Crescent City to see him win the title. Already Billy Haack is figuring on a special train which will be crowded to the bell-cord in cash.

Pete succeeds in making the match.

Match Still Hangs Fire.

The Thanksgiving day match is still hanging fire, with Promoter Tortorich demanding that Pat Moore sign a contract calling for a 20-20 split after $12,000 has been deducted from the gate, and with Herman now figuring on another plan, which may bring Lynch and Moore together on Thanksgiving day in an elimination match, the winner to draw the Herman bout, which would probably be staged around Christmas time.

Herman has issued a statement in which he is willing to meet either Moore or Lynch and that he has no preference in the matter. His terms have been met and whoever the promoters decide on, Pete says he'll be ready to climb through the ropes and defend his title.

Herman states that the only stipulation he makes is that he be given the $10,000 he has demanded and that the boys he meets will make the bantam weight. Herman will probably be somewhere near 120 pounds when he does the gloves.

PETE HERMAN.

to a nice share of coin for taking Herman on. We believe that Moore will eventually get the match, as he is the only boy who will draw the immense gate that will be necessary to pay the expenses connected with the show. Herman's $10,000 included," concluded Nate.

Match Still Hangs Fire.

The Thanksgiving day match is still hanging fire, with Promoter Tortorich demanding that Pat Moore sign a contract calling for a 20-20 split after $12,000 has been deducted from the gate, and with Herman now figuring on another plan, which may bring Lynch and Moore together on Thanksgiving day in an elimination match, the winner to draw the Herman bout, which would probably be staged around Christmas time.

Herman has issued a statement in which he is willing to meet either Moore or Lynch and that he has no preference in the matter. His terms have been met and whoever the promoters decide on, Pete says he'll be ready to climb through the ropes and defend his title.

Herman states that the only stipulation he makes is that he be given the $10,000 he has demanded and that the boys he meets will make the bantam weight. Herman will probably be somewhere near 120 pounds when he does the gloves.

Moore or Lynch will weigh over 120 pounds and Moore would enter the ring under that figure, for his natural weight is around 117 and 115.

In case Moore is successful in landing the title, Memphisians by the score are going to the Crescent City to see him win the title. Already Billy Haack is figuring on a special train which will be crowded to the bell-cord in cash.

Pete succeeds in making the match.

Match Still Hangs Fire.

The Thanksgiving day match is still hanging fire, with Promoter Tortorich demanding that Pat Moore sign a contract calling for a 20-20 split after $12,000 has been deducted from the gate, and with Herman now figuring on another plan, which may bring Lynch and Moore together on Thanksgiving day in an elimination match, the winner to draw the Herman bout, which would probably be staged around Christmas time.

Herman has issued a statement in which he is willing to meet either Moore or Lynch and that he has no preference in the matter. His terms have been met and whoever the promoters decide on, Pete says he'll be ready to climb through the ropes and defend his title.

Herman states that the only stipulation he makes is that he be given the $10,000 he has demanded and that the boys he meets will make the bantam weight. Herman will probably be somewhere near 120 pounds when he does the gloves.

Moore or Lynch will weigh over 120 pounds and Moore would enter the ring under that figure, for his natural weight is around 117 and 115.

In case Moore is successful in landing the title, Memphisians by the score are going to the Crescent City to see him win the title. Already Billy Haack is figuring on a special train which will be crowded to the bell-cord in cash.

Pete succeeds in making the match.

Match Still Hangs Fire.

The Thanksgiving day match is still hanging fire, with Promoter Tortorich demanding that Pat Moore sign a contract calling for a 20-20 split after $12,000 has been deducted from the gate, and with Herman now figuring on another plan, which may bring Lynch and Moore together on Thanksgiving day in an elimination match, the winner to draw the Herman bout, which would probably be staged around Christmas time.

Herman has issued a statement in which he is willing to meet either Moore or Lynch and that he has no preference in the matter. His terms have been met and whoever the promoters decide on, Pete says he'll be ready to climb through the ropes and defend his title.

Herman states that the only stipulation he makes is that he be given the $10,000 he has demanded and that the boys he meets will make the bantam weight. Herman will probably be somewhere near 120 pounds when he does the gloves.

Moore or Lynch will weigh over 120 pounds and Moore would enter the ring under that figure, for his natural weight is around 117 and 115.

In case Moore is successful in landing the title, Memphisians by the score are going to the Crescent City to see him win the title. Already Billy Haack is figuring on a special train which will be crowded to the bell-cord in cash.

Pete succeeds in making the match.

Match Still Hangs Fire.

The Thanksgiving day match is still hanging fire, with Promoter Tortorich demanding that Pat Moore sign a contract calling for a 20-20 split after $12,000 has been deducted from the gate, and with Herman now figuring on another plan, which may bring Lynch and Moore together on Thanksgiving day in an elimination match, the winner to draw the Herman bout, which would probably be staged around Christmas time.

Herman has issued a statement in which he is willing to meet either Moore or Lynch and that he has no preference in the matter. His terms have been met and whoever the promoters decide on, Pete says he'll be ready to climb through the ropes and defend his title.

Herman states that the only stipulation he makes is that he be given the $10,000 he has demanded and that the boys he meets will make the bantam weight. Herman will probably be somewhere near 120 pounds when he does the gloves.

Moore or Lynch will weigh over 120 pounds and Moore would enter the ring under that figure, for his natural weight is around 117 and 115.

FIRST TOURNEY OF LUMBERMEN'S GOLF CLUB OPENS

Twelve States Represented in Memphis' Association Play on Links of the Colonial Country Club.

BY L. P. ROBERTSON.

Twelve states are represented in the first annual tournament of the Lumbermen's Golf association of Memphis on the links of the Colonial Country club Friday. The tourney is for one day, the contest being a 36-hole handicap medal play affair.

Over a dozen cups and other fine trophies will be distributed to the successful players at the end of the day's play. The players will be handicapped from the records of their home clubs, and those not assigned handicaps from their home clubs will be handicapped from their five lowest scores of this season.

Several automobile loads of visiting contestants left the Hotel Gayoso shortly after 8 o'clock, arrived camped up with their golf accoutrements and weapons and thriving for the blood of their rivals. Probably two score local members of the club went to the links as early.

Among the visiting players are F. S. Horn, Nashville, Tenn., editor of the Southern Lumberman; J. F. Kelly, St. Louis, Mo.; W. J. Foxe, Omaha, Neb.; Nelson A. Gladding, Indianapolis, Ind.; H. Debevoise, Chicago; Garrett A. Lamb, Clinton, Ia.; E. O. Robinson, Cincinnati; W. C. Champion, Louisville; Phil Ryan, Lufkin, Tex.; M. D. Alexander, Selma, Miss.; J. W. Long, New York; George Land, of Charleston, Miss., and R. Carnahan, of Pine Bluff, Ark.

Wide Interest.

Responsibility for the wide interest in the tournament throughout the country are showing in the tournament may be largely placed upon J. M. Pritchard, secretary-treasurer, and F. R. Gadd, chairman of the membership committee, who have been untiring in their efforts to make the first tournament of the association a success.

The players will take luncheon at the club and the event will close with a big banquet at the club in the evening, at which election of officers for the ensuing year will take place. The temporary officers are W. N. Coulson, president; Ross J. Hackney, vice-president; J. M. Pritchard, secretary and treasurer.

Chairmen of the several committees which worked to prepare for the meet are W. N. Coulson, R. L. Jurden, W. E. Hyde, F. R. Gadd, J. W. Long, New York; George Land, of Charleston, Miss., and R. Carnahan, of Pine Bluff, Ark.

The states represented by the large number of players are as follows: Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Nebraska, Massachusetts, Texas, Iowa and New York.

Fred Fulton Scores Knockout Over Gordon Coghill

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Fred Fulton, American, heavyweight pugilist, last night knocked out Gordon Coghill, of Australia, in the third round of what was to have been a 20-round bout. The fight was held in the Hibernian Stadium.

Kid McCoy Held On Charge Of Color Blindness

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Oct. 24.—Kid McCoy, former middleweight pugilist, was arraigned in a justice court here today on a fugitive warrant, on complaint from Tulsa, Okla., and was released on $1,500 bond. Trial was set for Oct. 31. The Oklahoma complaint charged the former pugilist with misappropriation of $200, alleged to belong to a moving picture corporation for which McCoy had been selling stock.

M. U. S. Leaves For Mayfield Expecting Tough Opposition

M. U. S. pulled out early Friday morning for Mayfield, Ky., to meet the Mayfield High eleven on the latter's grounds Friday afternoon. Coaches Hippler and Schloss took the entire squad along with the expectation of meeting the toughest opposition of the schedule.

Central High of Memphis and this same Mayfield eleven figured in a 7-7 tie a week back and the contest will therefore furnish the fans with some idea of the relative strength of the Green and Gold vs. the Red and Blue.

Stiff signal drill Thursday in the mud brought training to an end for this struggle. The team returns to Memphis Saturday morning. The lineup as announced by Coach Hippler is as follows:

Lineup, left end: McGoldrick, left tackle: Ivy, left guard: Lawrie (c), center: Willis, right guard: Crum, right end: Smithwick, quarterback: Gibbons, right half: Cronin, fullback: Shea, left half.

Substitutes: Thompson, Johnson, Fifer, Dent, Barclay.

COMMODORES IN THE MUD AGAIN

Practicing All Sorts of Formations in Ooze Up to Their Necks.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 24.—The Commodore have been favored by the rain gods with more liquid offerings this week and practice for the Auburn game has been hampered. Even with a hard rain and with the field as slick as a glass window and Commodore pilot has had his share of anything else that the weather would permit.

Commodore Dan figures that it is better for his men to brave the elements and get their football togger muddy than it is to stay inside and have the Plainsmen next Saturday with a team that is not in condition. Reports have been filed in this direction from the direction of Birmingham indicates that the Plainsmen have a strong aggression and that they are packing anxious to annex the scalp of McCoy's men.

McGugin is continuing his work on the backfield in an effort to develop a powerful offensive for his calling that the attack must be consistently strengthened if he hopes to score against the Auburn machine.

Richardson is being run in at halfback and may start the game there in case Wade's injuries force him to view the game from the sidelines.

Wynn and Floyd are being put in condition as fast as the sloppy weather will permit. The veterans will be in trim after they have received a little more training and will be ready to duplicate their performance of when they ran over the Auburn team.

Of that outfit by the McGugin machine.

PUTZEL

New Arrivals

SMART HATS

Hats that lend distinction and dressiness to a man's appearance. Hand some new shapes. Moderately priced.

$5. to $20

Beautiful Silk Shirts

Fancy stripes—new fabrics—exclusive—the kind you expect to find in a man's shop. Reasonable price range.

$10 to $20

Putzel & Co.

Peabody Hotel Bldg.

Haberdashery

Hauger Clothes

Beyond Any Doubt The Biggest Clothing Values To Be Found Anywhere

Suits and Topcoats

$25 $30 $35

—Just About One-Third Less

There is no need for any man to pay over $35 at the present time, to get a good suit of clothes. At that price—and even many dollars less—Hauger Clothes give you the quality you want; all-wool fabrics; fine tailoring and the smartest of new models; quality that you pay just about one-third more for in any other store.

Hauger's 37-Store Buying Power Gives Your Clothing Money Increased Buying Power Take Advantage Of It

Every New Model For Men Of Every Age Is Included In Our Immense Fall Stock. In Sizes To Correctly Fit All Builds.

92 S. Main St.

Hauger

Only One Hauger Store in Memphis

92 S. Main St.

Only One Hauger Store in Memphis

Attaboy!

By Coyle Shea

NOTE TO PAT MORAN.
(Citizens of Fitchburg, Mass., presented Pat Moran, manager of the world champion Reds, with $1,000 on a silver platter.—News Note.)

I've just completed reading Pat. With nothing else to do, Where Fitchburg passed the platter and Made up a pot for you. And knowing, Pat, that you must be As busy as a bee.

I'd urge that you retain the plate And give the rest to me.

It's not that you have got too much. Nor any such a gag. For bringing Cincinnati up To win a season's flag—

But, Pat, in case you wish to aid A friend financially